

Not sure what to think or do about climate change?

South Carolina, Hurricane Florence

Introducing ENVR 475/775 Spring 2021 Global Climate Change: Interdisciplinary Perspectives

1 Credit
Pass/Fail*

*Undergraduates register for ENVR 475 and take the class Pass/Fail.
Graduate & Professional students register for ENVR 775 and take the class for a grade.

Who can take this class?

Open to ALL undergraduate, graduate, and professional students.

Designed for non-majors and Environmental students curious about climate change.
Skeptics welcome!

An Interdisciplinary Approach

Each week will feature a top expert from a different discipline

Including Geoscience, Biology, Engineering, Public Health, Public Policy, Economics, and Law, from UNC and elsewhere.

Course themes:

- science of climate system
- impacts on society, planning for adaptation
- energy and clean technologies
- climate change communications
- climate policy, and international solutions

Tuesdays, 3:30-4:45 PM

Jason West - Environmental Sciences & Engineering

Prerequisites: None

(For more information, contact Prof. West @ jasonwest@unc.edu)